DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the application prior to the entry of the submission under 37 CFR 1.114 and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the application prior to entry under 37 CFR 1.114. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action after the filing of a request for continued examination and the submission under 37 CFR 1.114. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Conway (United States Patent No. 2,087,181).

Conway discloses a method of putting hair foil in a person's hair comprising removing a first sheet of hair foil from a pop-up dispenser, the sheet having a lead portion and a trailing portion with the lead portion extending through the dispensing orifice and the trailing portion overlapping the lead portion of the next hair foil sheet; and pulling the next hair foil sheet through the orifice of the dispensing orifice by withdrawing the first sheet; and applying the first sheet to a person's hair (see col. 1, line 36 through col. 2, line 14). Conway discloses the claimed invention except for the foil sheets having a width of 3.5 to 6 inches. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the foil sheets 3.5 to 6 inches, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Claims 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Leto (United States Patent No. 4,185,753).

Leto discloses a method of putting hair foil in a person's hair comprising removing a first sheet of hair foil from a pop-up dispenser, the sheet having a lead portion and a trailing portion with the lead portion extending through the dispensing orifice and the trailing portion overlapping the lead portion of the next hair foil sheet; and pulling the next hair foil sheet through the orifice of the dispensing orifice by withdrawing the first sheet; and applying the first sheet to a person's hair (see col. 4, lines 21-45 and figure 3). Leto discloses the claimed invention except for the foil sheets having a width of 3.5 to 6 inches. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have the foil sheets 3.5 to 6 inches, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim are disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum or workable ranges involves only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Response to Arguments

Applicant has argued that the claims recited the term "consisting of" and the prior art requires the extra spraying step. After carefully reviewing both Leto and Conway references, it is noted that none of the references recited or required the spraying step. With regard to the argument about the weight of the paper, such limitations were not recited in the claims, therefore the argument is irrelevant. Also, Applicant has further argued the function of the hair foil vs. the end papers, however, Applicant is noted that Leto disclosed all the claimed steps and the end papers of Leto are capable of performing the hair coloring procedure, therefore, it meets the claimed language.

Applicant has also indicated in the remarks filed 6/2/08 that a request for continued examination is required in order to put the application into the condition for allowance. Applicant is noted that there is no indication in the Advisory action stating that a request for continued examination is needed.
